

Cepeda Helps Cards Split With Dodgers

Associated Press
LOS ANGELES, Calif. — Orlando Cepeda hit a tie-breaking homer in the fourth inning Friday, giving the St. Louis Cardinals a split of doubleheader against the Dodgers.

The Dodgers won the opener 2-1. Pitcher Bill Singer, now 9-4, doubled to trigger a two-run rally en route to his seventh straight victory.

Cepeda's homer in the nightcap was his 23rd of the season. Julian Javier singled home the first St. Louis run in the third.

Jack Lamabe and Joe Hoerner chipped off a Dodger threat in the seventh inning of the second game to save the victory for starter Al Jackson, 8-4.

A double by Singer, a triple by Willie Davis and a sacrifice fly by Lou Johnson produced the two sixth-inning runs that enabled the Dodgers to beat left-hander Larry Jaster for the first time.

Jaster had beaten Lou Austin six times including five straight shutouts last season.
