WHEN YOU ARE FIGHTING for a pennant and the team you are playing is out of the race, you don't try to get the other team mad. But this is what the Twins did...

Bill Rigney, manager of the California Angels who won two of three games from the Twins in the series completed Wednesday, was talking after yesterday's 5-1 victory that could have cost the Twins the 1967 pennant...

Imagine a guy like Jackie Hernandez getting on my shortstop, Jim Fregos, said Rigney. Hernandez and Sandy Valdespino were quiet Tuesday until the Twins got the big lead. Then they started to mouth off...

Chance Angle: Chance claimed that the pressure of pitching this important game didn't bother him at all. 'If anything, I'm too loose because I was so confident of winning,' said Chance...

Former Twin: Don Mincher, the former Twin whose home run in the fourth started Chance's downfall, said he hoped the Twins win the pennant now. 'I'm always a satisfaction to hit a home run off a good pitcher,' said Mincher...

Viking Dale: Calvin Griffith feels it may be hard to get the okay of the commissioner of baseball to allow the Minnesota Vikings to play the St. Louis Cardinals football game at the Met on Oct. 8 should the Twins make the World Series...

Clark Report: Rocky Clark, the 21-year-old California pitcher who allowed the Detroit farm system last year after pitching only eight innings the entire 1966 season because of service commitment...

Joffings: Steve Lindell, the star Army quarterback from Princeton, Minn., has a serious stomach disorder that could keep him on the sidelines for three to four weeks...

YOU BE THE QUARTERBACK DUFFY DAUGHERTY
You, the West Virginia quarterback, have been having a tougher time than a go-go girl in a Lawrence Welk polka Syracuse has given double coverage to both your split end and flanker, and you have failed to complete a pass...

Twins

bullpen in the fourth inning. Rick Reichardt, Jimmie Hall and Roger Repus followed with singles, Bob Rodgers was walked intentionally with first base open. Then Bobby Knop singled to center...

Rodriguez was retired at second when three runners piled up between third and second, and Rodgers was snuffed out going home. It made no difference, however, Clark stopped the Twins on three hits until the sixth inning...

In the sixth inning, Harmon Killebrew walked and Tony Oliva got an infield hit into a double play. In the seventh, inning with two out, pinch-hitters Frank Kotro and Rich Reese singled and Rojas was brought in for the tying run. Cesar Tovar singled to left for a 4-1 count...

The right-handed Rojas went to three balls and no strikes on Killebrew. The hit sign was on and Harmon reduced the Twins' lead to 4-0. He pitched to 102 for the season by popping up to center field for the final out. 'I got my pitch,' Killebrew said...

The Twins wound up their regular home season with a record attendance of 14,847. But they had no better than a 5-4 edge over the fifth-place Angels at Metropolitan Stadium, 17-10 overall. Minnesota finished 52-29 at the Met for the year and held a 28-40 record going into the two-game finale at Boston...

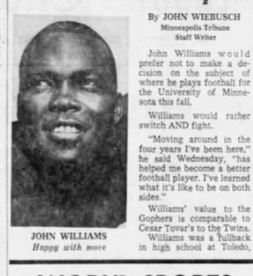

TWIN TOPICS: The Twins will not today, post-poned at the Met Friday, then fly to Boston... Bird Talk: The three top men of the Baltimore Orioles organization discussed what they said were 'club matters,' including the possibility of changes in field leadership for 1968...

FOOTBALL: BACK OF WEEK—Warren McVea, who gained 155 yards in 14 carries in Houston's 37-7 victory over Michigan State last Saturday, is the Associated Press's first college player of the week for this season. McVea's performance was runs of 48, 33 and 17 yards for a game credit for...

Chisox: Chuck Dobson, 10-10, held them to two hits until the final inning when he was relieved by Lew Krause. When Tommie Agre tripled and McCraw walked, Krause gave up two walks, forcing in a run and Rocky Colavito singled, scoring another run. Paul Lindblad then relieved and got the final two outs of the game. Gogger drove in his runs with a sacrifice fly in the second, a base single in the seventh and a single in the eighth...

Versatile Gopher: John Williams

JOHN WILLIAMS (Opposite page) says he has overcome the handicap of a congenital back problem.

Ohio, and it was for that position that he was recruited by the Gophers in 1964. He was a fullback through his first and second years at Minnesota but was moved to defensive end last fall. The Gophers were sold at defensive end this fall and needed help at offensive tackle in the guard. The man in that position Saturday when the Gophers visit Nebraska will be All-American Wayne Moylek...

Williams' value to the Gophers is comparable to Cesar Tovar's to the Twins. Williams, a blocky 250-pounder, also has had to overcome the handicap of a congenital back problem. 'That's one reason why it helps me playing offense,' he said. 'Speed is an important thing for a defensive end and I guess my back has allowed me down a little line on no punts responsibilities of an offensive tackle is trapping the opposition's inside guard.
