Calvin R. Griffith, Twins' President

Having tasted the fruits of victory in 1965, Minnesota Twins' president Calvin Griffith is leaving no stone unturned in his quest to return his ballclub to the top of the heap in the American League.

Long regarded as one of the more conservative of major league operators, Calvin startled the baseball world in general, and the fans of the Upper Midwest in particular, with his openhanded player dealing of last fall. On consecutive days, he completed two of the biggest and most significant trades of the hot-stove league season.

On December 2, during the final days of the major league meetings in Pittsburgh, he negotiated a deal by which the Twins received the brilliant righthand pitcher Dean Chance, former Cy Young Award winner, from the California Angels, in exchange for outfielder Jimmie Hall, first baseman Don Mincher and relief pitcher Pete Cimino.

Then, just a day later, and after his arrival back in Minnesota from the meetings, he swung the first-ever player transaction between the old Washington Senators and the new, swapping pitcher Camilo Pascual and infielder Bernie Allen to the Nats for star relief specialist Ron Kline.

While admitting that all player deals are gambles, and aware that the acquisition of Chance and Kline cost the Twins dearly in terms of player talent expended, Mr. Griffith nonetheless feels that these two players can provide the Twins with a solidarity in pitching that was missing in 1966. And, that solidifying effect could be pervasive throughout the entire ballclub since the departures of Allen, Hall and Mincher have opened the door of opportunity for several young Twins' stars who appear ready for regular status in the major leagues. Any one, or more, of these young players could provide a pleasant 'hidden' sideeffect to the Chance and Kline deals by capitalizing on the opportunity presented to them in the same manner as did Jim Kaat and Zoilo Versalles in 1961, Rich Rollins and Allen in 1962, Hall in '63, Tony Oliva in 1964, Boswell and Jim Merritt in 1965, and Cesar Tovar and Ted Uhlaender last year.

Perhaps 1967 will see names like Ron Clark, Jim Ollom, Frank Quilici, Rich Reese or any of a number of other young standouts added to the list of those above . . . home-grown players who were developed in the Twins' minor league organization for eventual major league stardom. To be sure, Mr. Griffith was well aware of this talent reservoir available to his club when he made his celebrated trades.

Born Calvin Robertson in Montreal, Quebec, Canada, he was adopted and brought to Washington by his uncle, Hall of Famer Clark C. Griffith, one of the great old-time pitchers, co-founder of the American League, and owner of the then-Washington franchise.

Calvin began in baseball as mascot of the pennant-winning Washington teams of 1924 and 1925, and, along the way, was educated at Staunton Military Academy, in Virginia, and at George Washington University, in the Capital City.

In 1935, Uncle Clark assigned Calvin to a three-year hitch as treasurer and president of the Senators' Chattanooga farm team. From 1938 through 1941, he held the same two posts at Charlotte.

He married Natalie Niven of Charlotte and they have a son, Clark II, and two daughters, Corinne and Clare.

In 1942, Calvin was recalled to Washington to serve as his Uncle Clark's chief lieutenant. He began by operating the club's concessions department at Griffith Stadium. He had whirls as traveling secretary and in public relations. Then, he was permitted to negotiate the Senators' radio and television contracts. Later he was given authority to negotiate player trades.

On October 27, 1955, Clark Griffith passed away, and Calvin was elected president of the club five days later.

Manager

MELE, Sabath Anthony

"Sam"

Born January 21, 1922, in Astoria, Long Island, New York. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 200 lbs. Batted and threw righthanded. Married. Lives in Quincy, Massachusetts.

1966 was a trying year for Twins' manager Sam Mele. With the 1965 American League pennant safely tucked away, Sam went into the '66 campaign with justifiably high hopes. But his horses stumbled at the starting gate and weren't able to fully regain their balance until the race was half over.

From July 4 on, though, the Melemen came down the stretch at the fastest clip in the major leagues, winning 54 of 84 contests, for a percentage of .643 . . . better even than their 1965 pennant-winning figure of .630.

They started too late, however, for after losing 5 straight games to the eventual pennant winners, the Baltimore Orioles, July 1-3, the once-proud Twins found themselves trailing the Birds by a full 19 games. So, even though they pared 10 games off that margin, and passed five other clubs along the way, the Minnesotans had to settle for second money behind the Orioles.

With a revamped coaching crew and a strengthened pitching staff, however, Mele feels that his Twins are capable of overtaking the Baltimore club in 1967, and returning the pennant flag to Metropolitan Stadium. Sam is confident that the addition of Early Wynn to the coaching staff and pitchers Dean Chance and Ron Kline to the mound corps should instill a new spirit into the team that will enable it to avoid the earlyseason pitfalls that befell them last year.

Certainly, Mele's credentials as a manager are an asset to the Twins, since only three active big league skippers can boast of a better career winning percentage than the .550 of the gray-haired Italian from Massachusetts. And, only one of the three, the Los Angeles Dodgers' Walt Alston, .572, has a longer tenure, 13 years, than Mele's 5½ campaigns. The New York Yankees' Ralph Houk has turned in a .601-percentage in slightly less than 4 seasons, and Herman Franks, of the San Francisco Giants, has a .582-mark for 2 seasons at the helm of a major league club.

LEMON, James Robert "Lem" Born March 23, 1928, in Covington, Virginia. Height: 6 ft., 5 in. Weight: 215 lbs. Batted and threw righthanded. Married. Lives in Hyattsville, Maryland.

Starting his third year as a coach for the Twins, Jim Lemon is a veteran of all or parts of 12 seasons as a player in the major leagues. During that time, he was one of the most feared sluggers in the game, sharing with his manager Sam Mele, and several others, the major league mark of 6 rbi's in an inning. On August 31, 1956, he belted three homeruns in a single contest off the New York Yankees' standout southpaw, Whitey Ford. Highly respected as an individual and as a baseball man, Jim joined the ranks of major league coaches after piloting the Washington Senators' York, Pa., farm team of the Class AA Eastern League in 1964.

MARTIN, Alfred Manuel

Born May 16, 1928, in Berkeley, California. Height: 5 ft. 11 in. Weight: 170 lbs. Batted and threw righthanded. Married. Lives in Richfield, Minnesota.

"Billy"

A dogged, aggressive individual, Billy Martin's work in the third base coaches' box has been of great value to the Twins over the past two seasons. Just as valuable, but sometimes overlooked, has been his patient tutorship of Twin infielders . . . particularly Zoilo Versalles in his 'Most Valuable' season of 1965, and Cesar Tovar last year. In 1967, Billy will have the responsibility of molding a championship infield from a wealth of outstanding talent which includes, besides Versalles and Tovar, Harmon Killebrew, Rich Rollins, Frank Quilici, Ron Clark, Rich Reese and others. It's a year of challenge for Martin and for the Twins, but both are expected to be more than equal to the challenge. A yearround Twin-Citian, Billy is employed during the winter months as a special representative of Minneapolis Brewing Co.

WYNN, Early

Born January 6, 1920, in Hartford, Alabama. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 235 lbs. Batted and threw righthanded. Married. Lives in Nokomis, Florida.

"Gus"

The last major league pitcher to join the 300-Victory Club, Early Wynn joined the Twins' coaching staff last October 15, after having served as pitching coach for the Cleveland Indians the past three seasons. Coming to the Twins, Gus rejoins the organization with which he signed his first professional contract back in 1937. He remained with the Griffith organization until he was traded to the Indians on Dec. 14, 1948. Wynn became the fourteenth hurler in major league history to win 300 or more games when he beat the Kansas City Athletics, 7-4, on July 13, 1963 . . . his last big league victory. In addition, he's the major league record-holder for most seasons pitched in the big show, 23, and for most bases on balls lifetime, 1775. His addition to the Twins' roster gives the club the distinction of being the only major league team with two or more former Cy Young Award winners on the payroll. Gus won this coveted honor when his 22 wins sparked the Chicago White Sox to the 1959 American League pennant. Dean Chance, of course, is the Twins' other former winner of Cy Young honors. In 1950, Wynn's 3.20 earned run average paced American League hurlers. He was the league strikeout leader in 1957 and '58, and topped the circuit in victories in 1954 and '59, two of his five seasons as a 20-game winner.

ALLISON, William Robert "Bob" Outfielder Born July 11, 1934, in Raytown, Missouri. Height: 6 ft., 4 in. Weight: 220 Ibs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Edina, Minnesota.

Hampered by injuries during 1966, particularly a broken hand suffered when hit by a Jim Lonborg pitch in Boston, July 23, Bob Allison is hopeful of returning in 1967 to his former place as one of the premier power hitters of the American League. The big slugger became the 64th member of major league baseball's 200-Homerun Club when his 10th-inning blast at Yankee Stadium gave the Twins a 5-3 win over New York, last September 18. He and Harmon Killebrew are the only two players ever to achieve membership in this exclusive society entirely by their production within the Griffith organization. An effective goodwill ambassador for the Twins as a highly-popular after-dinner speaker, Bob is an off-season sales representative for the Twin Cities Coca-Cola Bottling Co.

BATTEY, Earl Jesse, Jr. "Smoky" Catcher Born January 5, 1935, in Los Angeles, California. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 225 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in St. Paul, Minnesota.

An All-Star selection in four of the past five seasons, burly Twin catcher Earl Battey kept himself in top physical shape during the past off-season by following a rugged regimen of diet and conditioning. His baseball record ledger indicates that the odd-numbered calendar years have been his best, and the sturdy Californian is confident that 1967 will see a continuance of the trend. A three-time winner of baseball's Gold Glove Award, Earl broke his own 1963 club-record defensive percentage of .994, in '66, and also helped the team set a new Minnesota low for passed balls in a season. He had three of the Twins' five, which was eight less than the previous club low set in 1962 and '63, and the best such figure in the American League during 1966. Earl maintains full-time employment with the Twins by serving as a member of the organization's roving goodwill troupe during the winter months.

BOND, Walter Franklin "Walt" First Baseman Born October 19, 1937, in Denmark, Tennessee. Height: 6 ft., 7 in. Weight: 235 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Married. Lives in Houston, Texas.

An outstanding hitter who spent two seasons as a regular with the Houston Astros of the National League, Walt Bond was obtained by the Twins' Denver Pacific Coast League farm club last spring in a trade with the Houston organization for catcher Ken Retzer. A first baseman who has also seen considerable service in the outfield, possibly Bond's greatest contribution to the Denver club was witnessed in his pinch-hitting efforts, where he had nine hits, including two homers, in fifteen at-bats. His Denver manager, Cal Ermer, claims Walt can be of great value to a major league club as a pinch-hitter since he's one of those rare individuals who can come off the bench cold and swing a hot bat. He's a former student at Lane College, Jackson, Tenn.

BOSWELL, David Wilson

Born January 20, 1945, in Baltimore, Maryland. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Baltimore.

"Bos"

With a winning streak of eight consecutive games going as the 1967 season gets underway, Dave Boswell has already tied the Twins' one-season record skein, and is within just one victory of tying Johnny Klippstein's overall club mark of nine straight wins, set over the 1965 and '66 seasons. The all-time Griffith organization record for consecutive games won is sixteen, set by the great Walter Johnson, back in 1912. Bos was a virtual certainty to capture junior circuit Sophomore of the Year laurels in '66, had not arm trouble stopped him cold after August 7. His trouble actually began in the 8th-inning of the July 26 game in New York when he was hit on the pitching shoulder by a Hal Reniff fastball. Strangely, Dave's greatest big league moment came just four days after that incident when he blanked the title-bound Baltimore Orioles on just one hit, a clean 7th-inning single by Russ Snyder, in downing the Birds, 7-0, at the Met. The young righthander was leading the league in strikeouts at the time he was forced to the sidelines.

CAREW, Rodney Cline "Rod" Second Baseman Born October 1, 1945, in Gatun, Panama Canal Zone. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 170 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Single. Lives in Brooklyn, New York.

A speedster with great potential, second-sacker Rod Carew stands an excellent chance of making the jump from Class A ball all the way to the major leagues in 1967. The young Panamanian stole 28 bases in the Carolina League last summer, and then followed that with a league-leading 20 swipes for the Twins' Bradenton entry in last fall's Florida Instructional League, where he batted .297. Rod stole 52 bases for Orlando in 1965, and broke in with 14 in the abbreviated season of the Cocoa Rookie League in 1964. A native of the Panama Canal Zone, the slender young infielder's family moved to New York City during his high school days.

CHANCE, Wilmer Dean

Born June 1, 1941, in Wooster, Ohio. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 204 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Wooster.

"Dean"

Winner of the Cy Young Award as baseball's outstanding pitcher in 1964, Dean Chance came to the Twins from the California Angels last December 2, along with a minor league player to be named later, in exchange for pitcher Pete Cimino, outfielder Jimmie Hall and first baseman Don Mincher. In his great 1964 campaign, a year in which he paced the majors with eleven shutouts, Dean established a new major league record for most 1-0 games won in a season, six. His earned-run average was also the lowest in the big leagues that year, the lowest, in fact, since Spud Chandler of the New York Yankees turned in a 1.64 log in 1943. Originally a member of the Baltimore Orioles' system, Chance was selected by the Angels in the historic American League expansion draft of December 14, 1960. An active bowler and billiard player, Dean farms 285-acres of land dur-ing the off-season. He's married to the former Carol Larson of Appleton, Wisconsin, and has one son.

A fast-coming young standout, Ron Clark shared the Pacific Coast League rbi-leadership last year as he turned in an impressive season with the Denver Bears. A former boxer and rodeo rider, Ron stands an excellent chance of making the major league grade with the Twins this year. Although primarily a third baseman, he's equally at home at second and short. He was tops in his league defensively at third base in each of the past two seasons. Last winter, he performed for the Aragua club of the Venezuelan Winter League.

GRANT, James Timothy

"Mudcat"

Pitcher

Born August 13, 1935, in Lacoochee, Florida. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Shaker Heights, Ohio.

Named as the 'Forgotten Man' by the Twin Cities Chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America at their annual January banquet, Mudcat Grant would like to forget only the first half of the 1966 season, a period in which he struggled along with a 5-12 won-lost record. Starting on July 14, however, Jim began to set the record straight, winning 8 of his last 9 decisions and helping spark the Twins to their second-place finish. A talented song-and-dance man, Grant is active as a nightclub entertainer during the off-season. He's also taken acting lessons and is hopeful of pursuing a show business career after his baseball days are over. In 1965, he was the American League's Pitcher of the Year as he paced the circuit in victories, shutouts and winning percentage.

Born November 7, 1939, in Zeeland, Michigan. Height: 6 ft., 4 in. Weight: 227 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Married. Lives in Minnetonka Village, Minnesota.

"Kitty"

Jim Kaat enjoyed a fabulous season in 1966. Not only did he turn in more wins in a season than any other lefthander in Griffith organization history, but he also established new Twins' records in complete games, 19, and innings-pitched, 305. Needless to say, he led the league in these categories, as well. Only the great Walter Johnson (1912 to 1915) and Alvin Crowder (1932) won more games in a season for this organization than did Kaat in '66. New York's Whitey Ford (1961) is the only other hurler to win 25 games in the expanded American League. A rarity for a pitcher, Kaat's a fourway performer who was voted the Gold Glove Award for the fifth consecutive season as the league's top pitcher defensively. Also respected with a bat in his hands, he belted a pair of homeruns during 1966. An accomplished after-dinner speaker, Jim serves as sports director of Twin Cities radio station KRSI during the off-season.

KELLER, Ronald Lee

"Ron"

Pitcher

Born June 3, 1943, in Indianapolis, Indiana. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 200 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Indianapolis.

A young righthander from the University of Indiana who showed real major league moxey during a brief, mid-season trial with the Twins last year, Ron Keller has all the tools necessary to become one of the outstanding hurlers in the game. Indicative of the progress shown by Ron is the fact that he moved up four levels of professional baseball in just half a season last year . . . from Wilson to Charlotte to Denver and, finally, on July 8, to the Twins. Although he returned to Denver on August 14, with no major league decisions, Ron compiled an overall 12-3 log with his three minor league clubs. Ron's rookie season of professional baseball was featured by his no-hitter for St. Cloud over Aberdeen, 3-1, August 17, 1965. His 132 strikeouts led the Northern League that season. A graduate accountant, Ron joined the U. S. Army last fall, but is expected out in time for the start of the 1967 season.

"Pat"

A brother of pro football star Leroy Kelly of the Cleveland Browns, speedy outfielder Pat Kelly will miss the first half of the 1967 baseball season due to military service. Last year, he was not only named to the Southern League All-Star team, but also to the Class AA All-East team, comprising the Southern and Eastern Leagues. Pat placed third in the Midwest League batting tables in 1964, and was second in the Southern last season, missing the championship by three percentage points. He's a former student at Morgan State College in Baltimore.

KLINE, Ronald Lee

"Ronnie"

Pitcher

Outfielder

Born March 9, 1932, in Callery, Pennsylvania. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 210 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Callery.

An outstanding reliefer for the Washington Senators for the past four seasons, and a fifteen-year veteran of the major leagues, Ron Kline was obtained by the Twins in a December 3, 1966, trade with the Senators for pitcher Camilo Pascual and infielder Bernie Allen. A heady pitcher with a great variety of pitches, Kline is being counted upon to share the bullpen burden with the veteran Al Worthington, giving the Twins one of the better relief tandems in baseball. Primarily a starting pitcher throughout his years in the National League, Ron was converted to virtually full-time relief work with Detroit in 1962. One of his most important assets is his great control. In 1966, he walked just seventeen men, seven of them intentionally. A shrewd businessman, the big fellow also operates an automobile agency in the Pittsburgh area.

KILLEBREW, Harmon Clayton, Jr. "Harm" Infielder

Born June 29, 1936, in Payette, Idaho. Height: 5 ft., 11 in. Weight: 210 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives In Ontario, Oregon.

Although there've been seasons in which he's had slightly more impressive batting figures, never has Harmon Killebrew been more valuable to his team than he was in 1966 . . . as attested to in post-season votes of both his teammates and the members of the local chapter of the baseball writers. Even though he divided his time between first base, third base and the outfield, Harm was the only Twin to play in each of the club's games during the season and, in fact, established a new record for games played in a season by a Minnesota player. His steady play and quiet leadership throughout the season served to keep the team on an even keel, enabling them to overcome their bad start and make a strong second-place finish in the final league standings. During the course of the season, Harm moved up in the all-time homerun derby to a tie for 20th place in the rankings with newly-named Cleveland manager Joe Adcock. En route to his total of 336 roundtrippers, Killebrew passed during 1966 the career marks of immortals Chuck Klein, Rogers Hornsby, Al Simmons, Roy Sievers and Hank Greenberg. Harm's next goal is the 358-total of both Yogi Berra and Rocky Colavito. Conceivably, he could also pass Johnny Mize (359), Joe Di-Maggio (361) and Gil Hodges (370) during the coming season. Besides Colavito, the only active players ahead of Killebrew in the homerun tables are Frank Robinson, Ernie Banks, Hank Aaron, Eddie Mathews, Mickey Mantle and Willie Mays. Four times the American League's homerun champ, and once the circuit's rbi king, Harm was runnerup to Robinson in both categories in 1966.

KOSCO, Andrew John

Born October 5, 1941, in Youngstown, Ohio. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 210 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Struthers, Ohio.

With one full season of major league play under his belt, Andy Kosco appears to be on the threshold of blossoming into real stardom. A four-way performer with great power, this Youngstown University law student is certain to make a strong bid to win the Twins' leftfield job this season. A switch-hitter when he joined the Twins' system in 1964, he reverted to righty-swinging exclusively on the advice of his Bismarck-Mandan manager, Vern Morgan. The result was that he copped the Northern loop's 'Triple Crown' that season and paced the Pacific Coast League in rbi's the next, culminating his meteoric rise by joining the parent Twins on August 13, 1965.

McPHEE, Neil Patrick

Shortstop

Born October 14, 1943, in Waltham, Massachusetts. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single. Lives in Waltham.

The All-Star shortstop of the Midwest League last season, Neil McPhee had a fine all-round season, placing third in the homerun derby and pacing the circuit in runs-scored. Last fall, his outstanding play sparked the Twins' Bradenton entry to a second-place finish in the Florida Instructional League. The Twins' fifth choice in the free-agent draft of June, 1965, and a product of Northeastern University, Neil was signed for the club by scout Benny Borgmann.

"Jim"

Pitcher

Born December 9, 1943, In Altadena, California. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 180 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Married. Lives in West Covina, California.

The statistics are misleading as far as Jim Merritt's 1966 season is concerned. The slender southpaw certainly stands as the Twins' hard-luck hurler of the year. In nine of his fourteen losses, the opposition scored four or less runs. Three times Jim was shut out, and he lost two other contests by scores of 2-1. Used primarily in relief the first half of the season, he joined the starting corps on July 1, and proceeded to be one of the mainstays of manager Sam Mele's staff the rest of the season. His brightest moment came in Washington on July 21, when be blanked the Senators on a brilliant 3-hitter, and tied an American League record by striking out seven consecutive batters between the third and the fifth innings.

Born June 11, 1946, in Greenville, Kentucky. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 203 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Greenville.

Off to a slow start, Danny Morris finished strong in the Southern League in 1966, winning four of his last five decisions to post the top won-lost record on the Charlotte club. This, on the heels of his outstanding 1965 season in which he established an all-time Midwest League strikeout record, indicates that 1967 might be the year in which Danny realizes his full potential and blossoms out as a major league hurler.

NIXON, Russell Eugene

Born February 19, 1935, in Cleves, Ohio. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 200 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Married. Lives in Delhi Hills, Ohio.

"Russ"

Acquired along with infielder Chuck Schilling in an April 6, 1966, trade with the Boston Red Sox for pitcher Dick Stigman and first baseman Jose Calero, Russ Nixon has proved to be an extremely valuable addition to the Minnesota Twins' roster. Not only does his presence give the Twins possibly the most solid catching staff in baseball, but his talents as a lefthand pinchhitter have caused manager Sam Mele to call on him repeatedly in key situations. Unanimously named Legion Player of the Year as a member of the 1952 American Legion national championship Bentley Post team of Legion national championship Bentley Post team of Cincinnati, along with his identical twin brother Roy and former National League hurler Dick Drott, Russ signed his first professional contract with the Cleve-land organization. He and Roy, a first baseman, formed a brother act in the Indians' chain for two seasons. Traded to Boston for catcher Sammy White in spring training of 1960, the deal was voided when White re-fused to report. Russ was subsequently dealt to the Red Sox the following June, with outfielder Carroll Hardy, for pitcher Ted Bowsfield and outfielder Marty Keough. A former student at the University of Cin-cinnati, Russ shares the major league record for most cinnati, Russ shares the major league record for most hits and runs-scored by a pinch-hitter in an inning, two, set May 4, 1962. He was the batting champion of the Florida State League in 1954, and of the Three-Eye League in 1955. A farmer in the off-season, Russ specializes in the raising of Arabian horses.

A burly flamethrower from the bayou country, Maurice Ogier is equipped with all the natural ability necessary to make it to the major leagues. Troubled by wildness during his first two seasons as a professional, he needs only to harness his control in order to capitalize on his tremendous ability. He's a former student at Southeastern Louisiana College, in Hammond.

"Tony" OLIVA, Pedro, Jr.

Outfielder Born July 20, 1941, in Pinar del Rio, Cuba. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Single. Lives in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Reporting early to spring training in 1967, Tony Oliva hopes to be ready to roll at top speed come Opening Day as he shoots to regain the American League batting championship he relinquished to Baltimore's Frank Robinson last season. The only player ever to win batting championships in his first two seasons in the major leagues, Tony had the edge on Robinson as late as mid-September of '66, when an 0-for-16 slump caused him to drop too far back to catch up. For his major league career, Tony's lifetime batting average is exceeded among active players only by that of Atlanta's Rico Carty, who's five points ahead of Oliva at .323. So spectacular have Tony's hitting exploits been that the tremendous improvement he's shown defensively had gone largely unnoticed around the country until his American League opponents voted him the circuit's top defensive rightfielder in the annual Rawlings-Sporting News Gold Glove poll taken at the end of last season. An All-Star selection each year he's been in the majors, Tony's .410 average in his rookie season of 1961 in the Appalachian League led all of professional baseball that year. Last winter, he toured the Upper Midwest as a member of the Twins' Tours entourage.

OLLOM, Jimmy Donald "Jim" Pitcher Born July 8, 1945, in Snohomish, Washington. Height: 6 ft., 4 in. Weight: 210 lbs. Bats right, throws left. Mar-ried. Lives in Everett, Washington.

The first 20-game winner in the Pacific Coast League since Leo Kiely copped 21 for San Francisco in 1957, lanky lefty Jim Ollom is one of the most exciting young pitching prospects to hit the major leagues in recent years. Drafted out of the New York Yankee farm system in the first-year selections of 1963, Jim's advancement has been rapid, capped by his outstanding season for Denver last year. Besides victories, he also led the league in '66 with 17 complete games and tied team-mate Bill Whitby for most starts, 33, and most inningspitched, 247. At one stretch of the campaign, the blond southpaw racked up eight consecutive wins. He was named as Topps Chewing Gum's 'Player of the Month' for August in the Coast loop.

PERRY, James Evan, Jr.

"Jim"

Born October 30, 1936, in Williamston, North Carolina. Height: 6 ft., 4 in. Weight: 200 lbs. Bats both, throws right. Married. Lives in Edina, Minnesota.

For the second year in a row, it took an arm ailment by Camilo Pascual to get Jim Perry into the Twins' starting rotation in 1966. But when he took over for the alling Camilo on June 13, he showed, just as he did in '65, that he ranks with the best among major league pitchers. When the curtain rang down at season's end, the talented North Carolinian stood fourth among American League hurlers in the earned-run tables as he turned in the best ERA of his career, as well as his finest strikeout total. His top effort was a two-hit shutout over Washington on July 19, with neither of the hits leaving the infield. He also had a trio of three-hitters over the course of the season. Although tall, likeable Jim relinquished most of the 1966 headlines to his younger brother Gaylord of the San Francisco Giants, no one in Twinsland minimizes his value to the Twins. The league's 'Sophomore of the Year' in 1960, Perry now makes his permanent home in the Twin Cities, where he's employed in the off-season by the firm of Johnson & Rauch, Inc., manufacturers' representatives.

QUILICI, Francis Ralph "Frank" Second Baseman Born May 11, 1939, in Chicago, Illinois. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 170 Ibs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Bloomington, Minnesota.

A scrappy, heady-type infielder who battled his way into the affections of Twins' fans throughout the Upper Midwest in 1965, Frank Quilici is back with the Twins for 1967, and this time appears certain to establish his stature as a major leaguer. All the managers and coaches who've worked with Frank during his years in the Twins' organization are unanimous in their appraisal of the Chicago Polish-Italian as a 'winning' ballplayer. As his Denver manager Cal Ermer puts it. "There's no one outstanding quality about Frank. He just wins!" It isn't just coincidence, then, that the year Quilici was with the Twins, the team won the pennant. Much in demand as an after-dinner speaker, Frank serves as a sales representative of Midway Ford Co., St. Paul, in the off-season.

REESE, Richard Benjamin "Rich" First Baseman Born September 29, 1942, in Leipsic, Ohio. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Single. Lives in Deshler, Ohio.

After leading Pacific Coast League batters virtually all of 1966, Rich Reese lost the batting crown over the last weekend of the season to Tulsa's Walt Williams by the narrow margin of .003-percentage points. Last fall, he joined Boer, of the Nicaraguan Winter League, and again placed second with a .319 batting average. An outstanding defensive first baseman, Rich was used primarily in leftfield at Denver, thereby throwing him into the fight for the Twins' leftfield job and increasing his chances of remaining in the major leagues in 1967. Originally a Detroit Tiger chattel, Rich was drafted by the Twins in the first-year draft sessions of December, 1962.

"Jim"

Pitcher

Born December 14, 1942, in Franklin, North Carolina. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats right, throws left. Married. Lives in Orlando, Florida.

Counted upon to win his spurs as a lefthand reliefer for the Twins in 1967, tall Jim Roland was signed to one of the largest bonus contracts ever offered by the Griffith organization, in 1961. With the Twins for two full seasons and parts of two others, the handsome lefty has had some positively brilliant moments. Although troubled by arm ailments and other physical injuries on several occasions, big Jim now appears to have those problems licked. He has all the tools to be of great value to the Twins in the coming years.

A dedicated conditioner and team player, Rich Rollins is confident that the disappointing and frustrating season he experienced in 1966 is behind him, and that 1967 will see him bounce back to claim once again his regular position at third base in the Twins' lineup. The league's All-Star third sacker and 'Sophomore of the Year' in 1962, Rich followed that up with the highest batting average of his major league career in 1963, when he placed third in the American League bat chase. Last year, Rollins developed into one of the league's top pinch-hitters, going 8-for-21, .381, with a pair of homeruns and eleven RBI's. The Redhead makes his home in Minnesota, and is affiliated with Wayne National Life Insurance during the off-season.

SEVCIK, John Joseph

Born July 11, 1942, in Oak Park, Illinois. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 210 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Bismarck, North Dakota.

After impressing all observers as a tremendous major league prospect during his season with the Twins as a first-year player in 1965, John Sevcik worked a full year behind the bat in the tough Southern League last summer, gaining the only ingredient he needs, experience, to fight his way back to the big show. He's a former University of Missouri football and baseball star, along with his identical twin brother, Jim, who's also in the Twins' system as an outfielder. John is married to the former Glenda Lea Klipstein, of Bismarck, North Dakota, a former Stephens College coed.

Possessed of a calm, unruffled disposition, Dwight Siebler provided some great moments for the Twins in long relief roles last year. The Omaha accountant was especially effective during mid-season. In seven relief appearances between June 29 and July 17, in fact, the tall righthander did not allow a run in a total of nine and one-third innings-pitched, while giving up just four basehits. He's a former star with the University of Nebraska nine, before signing his first professional contract with the Philadelphia organization.

Catcher

TOVAR, Cesar Leonard "Pepito" Second Baseman

Born July 3, 1940, in Caracas, Venezuela. Height: 5 ft., 9 in. Weight: 155 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Caracas.

A highly versatile performer, Cesar Tovar settled into the second base position in the Twins' lineup at mid-season of 1966, and it was soon evident that the job was his. Earlier in the season, Cesar spent most of the month of May in centerfield, and during June, he filled in at shortstop for an ailing Zoilo Versalles. The speedy Venezuelan popped eyes at all three positions, so brilliantly did he perform. And on August 10, in one of his two games played in leftfield, he tossed out a pair of California runners at homeplate to preserve a 2-0 Twins' win. Extremely fast, Cesar, who stole 88 bases in 1961, swiped 16 last season to pace the Twins in this department. Last fall, while playing in the Venezuelan Winter League, he suffered a fractured finger, but the injury healed in time for him to finish the season with Caracas, and he reports to spring training in top physical condition.

UHLAENDER, Ted Otto

Outfielder

Born October 21, 1939, in McAllen, Texas. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Married. Lives in McAllen.

Disappointed at being sent to Denver at cutdown time last May, Ted Uhlaender attacked Coast loop pitching at such a lively pace that he was recalled by the Twins little more than a month later. Installed as the regular centerfielder on June 25, Ted performed in out-standing fashion defensively and showed steady improvement as a hitter, while manning his position day in and day out. He missed just one game, that due to having been hit on the right elbow by a pitched ball in Cleveland, September 20. From August 27, when his average stood at .199, Ted batted at a .284-clip through the balance of the season. Overall, the southpaw-swinging Uhlaender was remarkably effective against lefthand pitching, pounding portsiders for a .280 average, while going at just .204 against righthand pitching. A Baylor University alumnus, Ted has two batting championships to show for his five full seasons in professional baseball ... New York-Pennsylvania League honors in 1962, and the Pacific Coast League crown in 1965. A resident of the Rio Grande Valley, and an avid outdoorsman, he's in the importing business during the off-season.

VALDESPINO, Elpidio Hilario "Sandy" Outfielder Born January 14, 1939, in San Jose de las Lajas, Cuba. Height: 5 ft., 8 in. Weight: 160 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Married. Lives in Bloomington, Minnesota.

A stocky hustler who gets extreme enjoyment out of playing the game of baseball, Sandy Valdespino played an important part in the Twins' pennant success of 1965. Unable to get untracked last spring, however, he was optioned in June to Denver, where he found his batting eye once again. The cheerful Cuban figures strongly in the Twins' plans for 1967, and is sure to be in the thick of the fight for the regular leftfield position. He was the batting champion of the International League in 1964. Last winter, Sandy braved the rigors of a Minnesota winter to tour the area as a member of the club's traveling public relations staff.

VERSALLES, Zoilo, Jr.

"Zee"

Shortstop Born December 18, 1940, in Havana, Cuba. Height: 5 ft., 10 in. Weight: 160 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Bloomington, Minnesota.

Plagued by arm and shoulder miseries the first half of the 1966 season, Zoilo Versalles came back to spark the Twins in their strong second-half drive to the runnerup position in the American League pennant race. The wiry shortstop was the league's Most Valuable Player in 1965, has twice been named to the All-Star team and has won two of the coveted Gold Glove Awards for fielding excellence. One of the highlights of his 1966 season came on June 9, when he hit the second of the Twins' five homeruns in the seventh inning against Kansas City . . . the five homers setting an American League record and equalling the major league mark for roundtrippers in an inning.

WERDICK, Gregory Eugene "Greg" Shortstop Born October 3, 1946, in San Diego, California. Height: 5 ft., 10 in. Weight: 170 lbs. Bats both, throws right. Single. Lives in San Diego.

A bonus signee of the Chicago Cubs after his graduation from San Diego's Crawford High School in 1965, Greg Werdick was selected by the Twins from the roster of the Cubs' Tacoma farm club of the Pacific Coast League in the first-year player draft of last November's minor league meetings in Columbus, Ohio. He was the Chicago organization's third choice in the first-ever free-agent draft of June, 1965. Orginally a righthand hitter, Greg's batting figures took a distinct rise at Duluth last summer after his conversion to switchhitting.

WORTHINGTON, Allan Fulton "Al" Pitcher Born February 5, 1929, in Birmingham, Alabama. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 205 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Birmingham.

The workhorse of the Twins' relief corps in 1966, Al Worthington was credited with exactly half of the team's total of 22 'saves.' Always ready to respond when the call goes to the bullpen, Alabama Al fell just one game short last year of equalling the all-time Grif-fith organization record for game appearances by a pitcher . . . Bill Dailey's 66 of 1963. He would easily have surpassed that figure had he not jammed two fingertips of his pitching hand in a garage door accident last June 28, causing him to be put out of action for eighteen days. Tied with Harmon Killebrew as the top 'Dad' among the Twins, each with five children, Al received permission to report one week late to spring training this year in order to complete a course of study at Howard College, in Birmingham. A cheerful, devout individual, and an active member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Al devotes a great deal of his time to religious activities and youth causes. In 1950, Al was a semi-pro standout at Fulda, Minnesota, where he wooed and wed the former Shirley Lee Reusse, whose parents now reside in St. Paul.

"Bill"

Pitcher

Born July 29, 1943, in Crewe, Virginia. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 215 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Victoria, Virginia.

After an outstanding season at Denver last year, Bill Whitby kept up the pace for Aragua in the Venezuelan Winter League until a December appendectomy forced him to the sidelines. Strong as a bull, the easy-going Virginian is certain to make a strong bid for a berth on the Twins' pitching staff for 1967.

ZIMMERMAN, Gerald Robert "Zim" Catcher Born September 21, 1934, in Omaha, Nebraska. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 185 Ibs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Milwaukie, Oregon.

One of the better receivers in baseball, Jerry Zimmerman served notice during 1966 that he can be dangerous with the bat, as well. He delivered several key hits throughout the season and consistently maintained a batting average at or above his final level. A highly popular player, Zim possesses a lively sense of humor and proves to be a great morale factor for the Twins. The slender Oregonian came into professional baseball in 1952, as the recipient of a huge bonus contract from the Boston Red Sox' organization.

CASTIGLIONE, Robert Joseph "Bob" Pitcher Born August 8, 1945, in Irvington, New Jersey. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 175 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single. Lives in Union, New Jersey.

The Northern League's strikeout leader as he paced the St. Cloud Rox to the loop pennant in 1966, Bob Castiglione continued his great work last fall in the Florida Instructional League, where he compiled a 6-1 log for the Twins' Bradenton team. At the conclusion of that season, he joined Arecibo, of the Puerto Rican Winter League, for the few remaining weeks of their season, and gave further promise of great things to come by fanning St. Louis Cardinal slugger, Orlando Cepeda, three times in one contest! A graduate of New York University, Bob pitched in South Dakota's Basin League for the Pierre Cowboys in 1965, as they won the league championship.

CRIDER, Jerry Stephen

Pitcher

Born September 2, 1941, in Sioux Falls, South Dakota. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Orlando, Florida.

Back for his second spring 'look' with the Twins, Jerry Crider made great strides in 1966. Working as both a starter and reliefer, he ranked among the top hurlers in the Southern League during the summer. Then, pitching for Boer in the Nicaraguan Winter League, he established himself as the loop's outstanding hurler, with a record of 9-and-5. A former all-round athletic great at Sloux Falls' Washington High School, Jerry was signed to a Twins' contract by scout Marv Olson.

camp in hopes that he can help hasten the development of the many fine young hurlers on the club's roster. A 16-year veteran, Hank served as batting practice catcher for the Cleveland Indians in 1962, largely on the basis of his excellence with young pitchers. He's played a great deal of infield and outfield during his career, too, and in 1955, was a teammate of Twins Russ Nixon and Jim Grant at Keokuk, Iowa, in the Class B Three-Eye League.

MURRAY, Charles Frederick "Charlie" Pitcher Born November 29, 1944, in Seattle, Washington. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 170 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single. Lives in San Lorenzo, California.

Inducted into military service last May, Charlie Murray has just eight games of professional action under his belt as the 1967 season gets underway. So impressive is he, however, that the parent Twins deemed it advisable to put the youngster under their close scrutiny this spring. A former student at Eastern Arizona and Chabot Junior Colleges, Charlie was signed for the Twins by scouts Dick Wiencek, Dick Hager and George Mitterwald, Sr., after he had performed for the Minnesotasponsored entry in the San Francisco Bay area's wintertime Peninsula League.

SAUER, Curiis Raymond "Curt" Pitcher Born January 12, 1944, in Little Falls, Minnesota. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Royalton, Minnesota.

Author of a no-hitter in the Carolina League last April 28, 2-0, over Greensboro, Curt Sauer never took his foot off the gas as he made rapid strides up the ladder of success by way of Charlotte and Denver before the season came to a close. A fastballer with remarkable control, Curt was a standout in Minnesota amateur ball before affixing his signature to a contract proffered by current Twin coach Billy Martin. A former student at St. Cloud State, Curt turned in a 3-1 record in the Florida Instructional League last fall, before rounding out the winter with Boer, of the Nicaraguan Winter League. He comes to spring training as a newlywed, having tied the knot with the former Peggy Petron, of Royalton, last February 4.
