PAUL FOSS MONDAY MORNING QUARTERBACK

DOSTON, Mass. — How would you like to get a call from Boston Fox telling you that there's a seat on the Twins' chartered jet to Boston? Waiting for boarding, one might howl at the Twin link — their quiet presence.

The case system works. Taylor, Braun, start, press and radio men take the front seats with younger players going rearward. Fox's front row is the most interesting out for his boys. At Worthington sports, the picture is not so clear. The front row is the most interesting out for his boys.
