Kansas beats No. 1 UNLV

Associated Press

New York, N.Y.

Unranked Kansas completed a sweep of the nation's two top teams as the Jayhawks beat No. 1 Nevada-Las Vegas 91-77 Wednesday night in the preseason NIT semifinals.

Mark Randall scored 10 points and Mike Maddox eight during a 13-minute, 34-16 run by Kansas that turned a 49-47 lead into an 83-63 bulge with 3:51 remaining.

Kansas, which beat second-ranked Louisiana State 89-83 at Baton Rouge, La., to reach the semifinals, faces No. 25 St. John's in Friday night's final. The Redmen edged DePaul 53-52.

Maddox finished with 17 points and Randall 16, Finnish center Pekka Markkanen had 14 and Rick Calloway 13 for the Jayhawks.

Anderson Hunt had 21 points, Stacey Augmon 17 and Larry Johnson 13 for UNLV (2-1).

In the first game, Boo Harvey's 15-footer at the buzzer gave the No. 25 Redmen (3-0) the victory over the Blue Demons. Harvey finished with 16 points, Malik Sealy added 13 points and Robert Werdann 11 for the Redmen. The Blue Demons, who beat Ohio State and No. 19 North Carolina State to reach the semifinals, were led by Stephen Howard's 14 points and David Booth's 12.

Puckett

righthanded hitter in the American League since DiMaggio's .357 in 1941. Negotiations continued through spring training, then off and on during the 1989 season. Talks continued after the season, after Puckett had won the AL batting title with a .339 average and become the first righthanded full-season champion in the AL since Alex Johnson in 1970.

The sides were still some distance apart until recent meetings, when the gap started to close. An agreement finally was reached Tuesday. Sources have confirmed that Puckett will receive a $1.5 million signing bonus, to be paid in increments of $500,000 on Dec. 15 of 1990, 1991 and 1992. He will be paid a salary of $2.2 million in 1990, $2.5 million in 1991 and $2.8 million in 1992. In addition, he will get $200,000 if he is selected Most Valuable Player or wins a Gold Glove.

MacPhail and Shapiro would not confirm the figures, although MacPhail said the contract was for three years and $9 million with the payments split fairly equally. Shapiro only would add that Puckett was eligible for some "nice incentives."

MacPhail said it was important for the Twins to get Puckett signed and not follow the team's customary route of signing players in February and later.

"The technical reason for signing Kirby now is that after next season he would be a re-entry free agent," he said. "As attractive as he is to other clubs, he might have been wearing someone else's uniform for the 1991 season.

"Second is the value to the club, as far as signing him now or waiting until the customary period in February. His contract could have been affected by the signings of Mark Langston and Rickey Henderson or any other attractive five-year players. When (Cy Young Award winner) Bert Saberhagen's contract was extended for very close to $9 million, it became clear that level was going to be eclipsed."

Besides Saberhagen's three-year, $8.9 million extension with Kansas City, two signings elsewhere had to cause MacPhail to sense the rising cost of signing Puckett: outfielder Kevin Bass' three-year, $5.25 million deal with San Francisco and pitcher Pascual Perez's three-year, $5.7 million contract with the Yankees.

"It's a great deal for Kirby and a good one for the ballclub, too," MacPhail said. "Kirby is 28, and he's going to be getting paid while he's 29, 30 and 31. Those should be his peak years. It's not like he's already 34 or 35. My concern is not that I'm a part of baseball history but that Kirby stays healthy for the next three years.

"Both Kirby and Ron Shapiro took a very high-road approach. These negotiations lasted 11 months, but they were never anxious to make their contract discussions public. They never did exert any pressure of Kirby playing anywhere else. We feel that Kirby got a contract commensurate to his talents and his value to the Twins."

MacPhail said negotiations with free agents Kent Hrbek and Jeff Reardon continue. "We're very close to an agreement with Kent, and I'd like to get that done as soon as possible," he said. "I'd like to have that done before the winter meetings start (Dec. 3 in Nashville, Tenn.)."

MacPhail said negotiations with Reardon might take longer, possibly "into the more customary time in February," he said.
