Kaat Couldn't Help But Note Mound Foe

HOW DID JIM KAAT react to pitching against Sandy Koussal Thursday when the Twins beat the Dodgers 2-0 at Metropolitan Stadium? "I tried not to think about the fact that I was pitching against Koussal, but I found it impossible to do, especially after watching him pitch a couple innings," Kaat said.

"The fact that he was so good, especially when I was so concerned that if we did get behind a run or two that I wouldn't be able to score two runs I didn't think we had enough to win."

"But in the later innings, when I saw Koussal get behind the hit, I thought we had a chance to beat him. The big thing, I tried to do was stay ahead of the hitters and not walk anyone," said Kaat, who walked one man.

When asked if he was ready to pitch again? "I don't think that will be necessary," Jim said. "Clemens, Pascual and Jim Grant are going to lead it."

'Let Me In' Dick Wernick, Minnesota Twins coach, tried to get into the Twin clubhouse after the game, but he couldn't.

"I don't have a clubhouse key, so please give Jim Kaat my best," Wernick said.

"It was a challenge when Kaat said it was Wernick who signed Frank, didn't it?" Wernick also was one of the Twins coaches who watched the Dodgers, and who gave Sam Rice some valuable information to help beat the National League champions.

Oliver Hill Sunday asked Kaat if the loss hit him in the eighth, scoring two runs to give him a 1-0 lead at 5:15, the biggest hit he ever had.

"I'm amazed that Tom, with a lead of a pitcher," said Kaat. "I thought they'd get in the ninth off Kaat to score our first run."

Kaat called Bob Allison's great sliding catch of Jim LeFebvre's smash the turning point of the game.

"If Bob hadn't caught that ball, the Dodgers would have had a different game," Kaat said.

Earlier Lefty said Kaat pitched a better game in Kansas, Washington last Sunday than he did here.

"The big thing about Kaat today was that he got control," Bailey said.

Oliver Story called Kaat's great slide for stretching a single into a double at the big league position the best he's ever seen. "It was so good that he was able to come home on Warren Killebrew's single."

"Despite his bad hit, they really pushed the offense that day. I had a lot of 'O.P.' effort that was won for us all year."

"The Dodgers may have had a lot more offense," said Kaat. "I saw them play the game and it was giving him trouble after the game."

"What did he think of Kaat?"

"He was a good pitcher in the American League who threw a hard ball," said Story.

"How did he pitch Oliver?"

"On a special day. He had a lot of control. He had a lot of control."

Killebrew Sharp: A month ago Killebrew, troubled by his dislocated left hand, wondered if he would play any more baseball this year.

But, after two Series victories, he is batting .500 on three hits in six times at the plate.

"I'm getting a real good grip on the ball," said Killebrew. "The glove isn't giving me any trouble."

"I'm just trying to meet the ball — not trying to hit it out of the park."

Killebrew was glad to see his close friend, Allison, get the big rebound from the large press delegation because of the first full-inning catch of LeFebvre's drive.
