BASEBALL CLUB

METROPOLITAN STADIUM — BLOOMINGTON, MINNESOTA

Representing the

AMERICAN LEAGUE

In the Upper Midwest

1962 PRESS - RADIO - TV GUIDE

The Name . . .

The name of this baseball club is Minnesota Twins. It is unique, as the only major league baseball team named after a state instead of a city. The reason . . . unlike all other teams, this one represents more than one city. It, in fact, represents a state and a region, Minnesota and the Upper Midwest, in the American League. A survey last year dramatized the vastness of the Minnesota Twins market with the revelation that up to 47 per cent of the fans at weekend games came from beyond the metropolitan area surrounding the stadium. The nickname, Twins, is in honor of the two largest cities in the Upper Midwest, the Twin Cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul.

The Place . . .

The home stadium of the Twins is Metropolitan Stadium, located in Bloomington, the fourth largest city in the state of Minnesota. Bloomington's population is in excess of 50,000. Bloomington is in Hennepin County and the stadium is approximately 10 miles from the hearts of Minneapolis (Hennepin County) and St. Paul (Ramsey County). Bloomington has no common boundary with either of the Twin Cities.

Club Records . . .

Because of the transfer of the old Washington Senators to Minnesota in October, 1960, and the creation of a completely new franchise in the Nation's Capital, there has been some confusion over the listing of All-Time Club records. In this booklet, All-Time Club records include those of the Washington American League Baseball Club from 1901 through 1960, and those of the 1961 Minnesota Twins, a continuation of the Washington American League Baseball Club.

TWINS MEDICAL STAFF

GEORGE (DOC) LENTZ is in his sixteenth season as the team's trainer. A native of Williamsport, Pa., he trained teams at Dickinson Seminary and Catholic and George Washington Universities. He also taught classes for trainers at George Washington. His patented protective helmet is used by most major league teams. In the fall, he is trainer for the Washington Redskins.

DR. WILLIAM E. PROFFITT, JR. took over as Twins' club physician after four years in the same position with the now defunct Minneapolis Millers of the American Association. Born in Danville, Ill., schooled in Buffalo, N. Y., and graduated from the University of Minnesota, Dr. Proffitt half-backed the Gophers in 1932, '33 and '34, the latter a national championship year. Dr. Proffitt also lettered in track and was the University's heavyweight boxing champion in 1934 and '35. An active swimmer, water skier and golfer, Dr. Proffitt is married and has a son and daughter.

THE KILLER AND HIS KANSAS CITY STREAK

Kansas City pitchers can testify as to why the Twins' Harmon Killebrew is nicknamed "Killer." He murdered A's pitching during an incredible 1961 second-half streak which saw him hit one home run in each of the last nine games between K.C. and Minnesota. Harmon began his streak with a grand slam at K.C. on July 1. He followed with one homer each at K.C. on July 2, at the Met on August 14, 15 and 16, and at K.C. again on September 8, 9, 10 and 11, the last meeting of the two teams. It might have been a 10-game streak except that on June 30, a long Killebrew belt hit just short of the home-run target and he had to settle for a triple.

Calvin R. Griffith, Twins President

SCION OF A famous baseball pioneering family, Calvin Robertson Griffith proved he was a trail blazer himself on October 26, 1960. That was the day he opened the Upper Midwest to big league baseball by transferring his Washington Senators to the Twin Cities of Minnesota.

Thus, just before his 49th birthday, as president of the newly named Minnesota Twins, he created and met head-on the biggest challenge of a lifetime full of challenges . . . this one to establish that in the states of Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska, Montana and western Wisconsin, there are enough fans to justify their claim to big league status.

It was a heart-wrench for Mr. Griffith to move his family from the Nation's Capital. He had lived there since he was ten years old. Born Calvin Robertson in Montreal, he was adopted and brought to Washington by his uncle, Hall of Famer Clark C. Griffith, one of the great old-time pitchers, co-founder of the American League, and patron saint of baseball in the District of Columbia.

Uncle Clark deliberately bred Calvin to succeed him as president of the Senators and it's doubtful that any other present team leader had better preparation than the Twins' leader.

He began as mascot of the pennant-winning Washington teams of 1924 and '25 and was educated at Staunton Military Academy in Virginia and George Washington University in the Capital City.

At Staunton and George Washington, Calvin starred in basketball and played third base, pitched and caught in baseball. At one time, he was sought as a player by the Cubs, who withdrew their bid when his relationship to Clark Griffith was revealed.

In 1935, Uncle Clark assigned Calvin to a three-year hitch as treasurer and president of the Senators' Chattanooga farm team. From 1938 through '41, he held the same two posts at Charlotte.

At Chattanooga and Charlotte, Calvin even had some whirls at managing and proved a two-fisted field leader. His Charlotte clubs won a pennant, barely missed two others and broke attendance records. He helped prepare for the majors such players as Early Wynn, Al Evans, Jake Early, Jim Bloodworth, Sherry Robertson, Joe Haynes and Bobby Estalella.

He married Natalie Niven of Charlotte and they have a son, Clark II, and two daughters, Corinne and Clare.

In 1942, Calvin was recalled to Washington to serve as his Uncle Clark's chief lieutenant. He began by operating the club's concessions department at Griffith Stadium. Then, he was permitted to negotiate the Senators' radio and television contracts. Later, he was given authority to negotiate player trades.

On October 27, 1955, Uncle Clark passed away and Calvin inherited the presidency of the Senators five days later. It was a team which had been tied to the second division for nine straight years and had been far outclassed for two decades in the competition for young player talent.

Calvin Griffith charted a vigorous expansion of the team's farm operation and scouting departments. He shortened the home-run distances, creating new long-ball interest by Washington fans. He engineered a series of shrewd trades. He turned the tide.

There was an upswing in attendance through his five years at the helm in Washington. The Senators began to land more than their share of the better young ballplayers. The farm system improved.

Then came the decision to transfer the Senators to Minnesota, Calvin Griffith at the same time making certain by pledge to Washington fans that there would be a new team to replace his in the Capital City which had been so good to him.

Mr. Griffith has brought to Baseball's New Frontier a promising team and an enthusiastic, imaginative crew of young department heads who reflect his own vigor and optimism.

A new era has been ushered in by one of baseball's newest pioneers.

Manager

MELE, Sabath Anthony

"Sam"

Born January 21, 1923, at Astoria, L. I., N. Y. Height: 6 ft. 1 in. Weight: 178 lbs. Threw and batted righthanded. Married. Lives in Quincy, Massachusetts.

June 23, 1961, was a memorable day in the saga of Sam Mele, the day he realized a lifelong ambition to become a major league manager by succeeding Cookie Lavagetto at the helm of the Twins.

Sam's association with this organization dated back almost exactly to 12 years before when on June 13, 1949, he was traded by the Boston Red Sox to the old Washington Senators. A fine glove man who played the outfield and first base equally well, Mele had a fine arm and hit with consistent power. His playing career spanned 10 major league seasons.

In 1951, he led the American League in doubles with 36 for Washington. The same year and again in '53 for the White Sox, he led the league's outfielders defensively. In fact, in '53 with the Sox, he set a league record for most consecutive errorless games by an outfielder in a season, 131, handling 212 chances.

In 1952, Sam used his bat to tie two major league records by exploding for a home run with two men on base and a triple with the bases loaded in the fourth inning on June 10, the records being, most runs batted in in one inning (6) and most long hits in an inning (2).

Sam returned to the old Senators organization in January, 1959, when he was hired as a scout for the New England territory. On July 3, 1959, when Billy Jurges, then a Senators coach, was tapped for the Red Sox managerial post, Mele succeeded him on the Washington coaching staff. It was from that post that Sam advanced to manager.

Sam was signed to his first professional baseball contract by the Boston Red Sox when he was in his third year at New York University. He had lettered in basketball as well as baseball. In January, 1949, he wed the former Constance Mary Clemens and the couple now have four children. Quiet but articulate, Sam is adept with the typewriter. During the off-season, he has written a weekly column for a newspaper in Quincy, Mass., and he has a seasonal sports show in the Twin Cities.

One of the best quarterbacks in recent Big Ten history, Bernie was signed after graduating from Purdue for a big bonus in June, 1961, on the recommendation of Twins Coach Floyd Baker. ALLISON, William Robert "Bob" Outfielder
Born in Raytown, Missouri, July 11, 1931. Height: 6 ft. 4 in. Weight: 220 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Minneapolis.

Seventh in the American League in homers and batting in runs last season, Bob has yet to reach his peak, according to many experts. He walked 103 times, evidence of the respect in which he is held by enemy pitchers. He threw out 14 base-runners, a total topped only by Rocky Colavito among outfielders. Allison has power, speed, a mighty arm and a good glove. He's working to improve his batting average. The onetime Kansas University full-back was the American League Rookie of the Year in 1959 and led the league in triples. He belted three grand slams last season, against Baltimore, Boston and Chicago. In that Baltimore game, he also hit a three-run homer. Bob is a salesman for Coca-Cola in Minneapolis during the off-season.

This curve-balling lefthander was purchased from his hometown White Sox in the first-year draft a year ago and had a mid-1961 trial with the Twins. ## BATTEY, Earl Jesse, Jr.

Catcher

Born in Los Angeles, California, January 5, 1935. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 205 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Lives in St. Paul, Minnesota.

Winner of the Rawlings Silver Glove as the American League's top fielding catcher two years in a row, Earl last season had the best fielding percentage among all major league catchers working in at least two-thirds of their team's games. Earl also led the Twins in batting and, for the second straight year, he set a club record for homers by a Twins receiver. With 812 putouts, he broke the league record for catchers in a season, the old mark being Philadelphia's Ossie Schreckengost's 785 in 1905. Obtained from the White Sox along with Don Mincher and cash for Roy Sievers in 1960, Earl has delighted in belting his ex-mates. He hit .333 against them in 1960 and .327 in '61, connecting for seven of his 32 homers since the trade off former batterymates. Short arms and very stubby fingers have been no hindrance to Battey in his climb to stardom. He was such a fine ball-handler as a schoolboy basketball player, the famed Harlem Globetrotters once wanted to sign him.

GREEN, Leonard Charles

"Lenny"

Outfielder

Born in Detroit, Mich., on January 6, 1933. Height: 5 ft. 10 in. Weight: 177 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Married.

Steady Lenny has now put together two good seasons and the time has come to rank him with the better outfielders in the majors. He has great range in centerfield, hits consistently and with occasional power, and is speedy on the bases. He led the Twins in stolen bases last season with 17 (he led the club with 21 in 1960) and in hits and doubles, tying Harmon Killebrew for most triples. His 24-game hitting streak in May was the longest of the 1961 season. He had more than his share of big days with the bat. In a July 16 doubleheader against Cleveland, Lenny rapped out eight hits, one short of the major league record. On April 18 and on May 25, he had four hits in a game. On July 21, he singled in the winning run in the ninth against Cleveland. His four runs batted in on three hits beat Washington July 26. On August 13, he hit a triple, double and single to help rout the Tigers. Lenny made speeches for the Twins public relations department last winter and built up quite a following all over Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, the Dakotas, Montana and Wyoming. He was acquired by the old Senators from Baltimore in a trade for Albie Pearson.

JACOBS, Lamar Gary "Jake" Outfielder

Born in Youngstown, Ohio, on June 9, 1937. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 175 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single.

A June, 1959, graduate of Ohio University, Jake was signed at a big bonus by Twins Coach Floyd Baker, then a scout. Jake is a true Twin, having an identical twin brother, who is not a ballplayer. Jake is speedy and has a strong arm although he has shown a notable lack of power. If he can harness some of his great raw talent, he could be a major league fixture for years to come. When not playing ball, Jake plays a mean guitar and has written and had published some rock-n-roll type songs.

Born November 7, 1938, at Zeeland, Mich. Height: 6 ft. 4 in. Weight: 205 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Married.

The blond Hope College alumnus is believed to be on the verge of full-fledged stardom following a strong finish which saw him win six games in the final eight weeks of the 1961 season and post a 3.28 earned run average over his last 15 games. Jim is a fine athlete, conscientiously trying to make himself into a versatile performer. He has poise, a good fast ball and curve and improving control. He's a good-fielding and good-hitting pitcher (he had 15 hits and a .238 batting percentage). Among his eight-inning or better winning efforts were a three-hitter against Los Angeles, five-hitters against Chicago (a shutout) and Baltimore, six-hitters against Washington, Kansas City and Los Angeles, and a seven-hitter against Kansas City. Among his proudest distinctions in the minors were leading the Pioneer League in victories, earned run averages and complete games in 1958, fanning 19 Nashville batters for a Southern Association record in 1959, and winning an American Association All-Star berth in 1960.

KILLEBREW, Harmon Clayton "Harm" Infielder

Born in Payette, Idaho, on June 29, 1936. Height: 5 ft. 11 in. 210 lbs. Throws and bats righthanded. Married.

One of baseball's most exciting young figures, Harmon last season achieved personal major league highs in hit total, doubles, triples, homers, runs batted in, batting average and fielding percentage. His 46 homers broke the club record which he previously had shared at 42 with Roy Sievers. Harmon got into the first All-Star Game last season at Candlestick Park as a pinch hitter and blasted a homer off San Francisco's Mike McCormick. The Idaho Strong Boy finished tied for third in homers, fourth in bases on balls (107) and total bases (328), fifth in runs batted in and slugging percentage (.606), seventh in triples and tenth in runs scored. Around the league's stadiums, they're pointing to spots reached by Harmon's tape-measure clouts. Last year, he blasted a 462-foot homer off the green eye-backdrop beyond Metropolitan Stadium's centerfield fence, the ball hitting the corrugated metal at a point 15 feet above the ground. In 1960, he became the first player in 25 years to hit a homer onto the leftfield roof at Detroit. He almost put one out of Baltimore's stadium.

His strength comes naturally. His dad, Clay Killebrew, was a great fullback at Millikin College in Illinois and West Virginia Wesleyan. Harmon's grandfather, the original Harmon Clayton Killebrew, was a legendary strongman, reputed to have been the heavyweight wrestling champion of the Illinois detachment of the Union Army during the Civil War. Harmon, himself, was an outstanding high school quarterback and received numerous college scholarship offers. He was the first bonus player ever signed by the Twins (then the Senators). Ossie Bluege, then the club's farm director, signed Harmon after a recommendation by the late Senator Herman Welker (Rep., Idaho). In 1959, Killebrew blossomed as the starting third baseman in the All-Star Game at Pittsburgh. He went on to become the second Washington player ever to win the home-run title. He plays third base and first base and was considered an outfield possibility for 1962. Harmon is branching out in the radio and television field in the Twin Cities and is a regular on the WTCN sports broadcasting staff.

KRALICK, John Francis "Jack" Pitcher

Born June 1, 1936, at Youngstown, Ohio. Height: 6 ft. 1 in. Weight: 175 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Married.

Frail appearing but a tenacious competitor, Jack was topped in total victories by only four other American League lefthanded pitchers—Whitey Ford, Steve Barber, Don Mossi and Juan Pizarro. In victories and complete games (11), he was topped on his own club by only Camilo Pascual. The Michigan State University product swings a dangerous bat, an eighth-inning single off Earned Run Average Champion Dick Donovan beating Washington, 1-0, and a home run over the rightfield bleachers at Wrigley Field helping to whip the Angels last season. Another noteworthy victory came over Detroit, 4-0, on an eight-hitter. Formerly in the White Sox organization, Jack pitched a no-hitter against Union City in the Kitty League in 1955 and another against Fargo-Moorhead in the Northern League in 1956. Scout Dick Wiencek signed him as a free agent for Washington in 1958 after seeing him pitch a no-hitter in the National Baseball Congress Tournament in Wichita. Last winter, Kralick toured the Upper Midwest as a member of the Twins public relations department speaking team.

LEE, Donald Edward "Don" Pitcher

Born in Globe, Arizona, February 26, 1934. Height: 6 ft. 4 in. Weight: 210 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married.

A broken finger on his pitching hand, suffered a week before the season opened, and a bout with German measles soon after he had recovered from the injury kept Don from achieving full effectiveness in 1961. The former University of Arizona All-America did manage to work in 37 games as a starter and reliever and on July 21 pitched no-hit ball against Cleveland until Woodie Held cracked him for a homer with two outs in the eighth inning. The son of former White Sox pitcher Thornton Lee survived the blow to win the game. Don was acquired by the Washington organization, now the Twins, for the $25,000 draft price from Milwaukee after the 1959 season.

LEMON, James Robert

"Jim"

Outfielder

Born in Covington, Virginia, on March 23, 1928. Height: 6 ft. 5 in. Weight: 210 lbs. Throws and bats righthanded. Scotch-Irish ancestry. Married. Lives in Greenbelt, Maryland.

Jim goes into the 1962 season only 23 homers short of becoming the most prolific home-run hitter in the history of the club. He goes in with 158 homers with the old Senators and Twins, topped only by Roy Sievers who had 180. If he returns to his old form, Jim will easily pass the Sievers total. Last year, he was winged on the left shoulder by a Don Larsen fastball and never afterward was able to swing freely. As a result, he suffered the worst slump since he became a major leaguer in 1956 and led the American League in triples. In 1960, his 38 homers left him only two short of Mickey Mantle's championship total. That season, he had his second straight 100-RBI total. Among Jim's biggest games: the 1955 Southern Association All-Star Game in which he hit four homers; the August, 1956, game in which he walloped Whitey Ford for three homers as President Eisenhower watched; and September 5, 1959, when he homered twice in one inning against Boston and drove in six runs in that inning to tie a major league record, shared, incidentally, by Sam Mele, present manager of the Twins. During the off-season, Jim is manager and part-owner of a restaurant-beverage sales establishment in Berwyn Heights, Md., just outside of Washington, D. C.

MANNING, James Benjamin

"Jim"

Pitcher

Born July 21, 1913, at L'Anse, Mich. Height: 6 ft. 1 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Throws and bats righthanded. Lives at Trout Creek, Mich.

Signed by Scout Dick Wiencek for a five-figure bonus out of Trout Creek High when in three seasons he won 15 and lost two, and hit .400 as a part-time shortstop, Jim had an eventful first year of pro ball. He struck out an average of one batter an inning while pitching .500 ball in the Appalachian League, then won three and lost one for the Twins' St. Petersburg, Fla., Winter Instructional League club. Jim demonstrated he hasn't lost his touch with the bat, hitting at .280 at Wytheville and .500 (three-for-six) at St. Pete. Jim's dad, Ben Manning, used to pitch for Superior, Wis., in the Northern League.

MARANDA, Georges Henri

Pitcher

Born in Levis, Quebec, Canada, January 15, 1932. Height: 6 ft. 1 inch. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded.

At 30, this French-Canadian gets a new lease on life after having been drafted by the Twins for $25,000 from the San Francisco Giants organization. Georges was originally drafted by the Giants after he led the American Association in victories in 1959 but he slipped back into the minors after a year in the Giants bullpen. He has had some spells of arm trouble, though not recently, and would prefer being a starter. That's the role Manager Sam Mele had in mind for Maranda when spring training began.

MARTIN, Alfred Manuel

"Billy"

Infielder

Born May 16, 1928, at Berkeley, California. Height: 5 ft. 11 in. Weight: 170 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married.

A player at his best when the pressure is on, battling Billy is anxious to demonstrate he can play more than 120 games of top-flight second base with this new lease on life. The Twins acquired him from the Braves after the latter had relegated him to the bench as washed up. Billy had difficulty playing his legs back into shape but vows he's ready for the comeback. The fiery, take-charge Martin won national fame as the hero of the 1953 Yankees World Series victory over the Dodgers. He had 12 hits, tying the Series record, and singled home the winning run in the sixth game, clinching the championship. Earlier, he made a clutch running catch on a pop fly by Jackie Robinson with the bases loaded. Billy has moved to Minneapolis and works during the off-season as a salesman-public relations man for Minneapolis Brewing Co.

Born at New York, N. Y., November 18, 1932. Height: 5 ft. 10 in. Weight: 175 lbs. Throws and bats lefthanded. Married. Lives in Greenwood, Mississippi.

A 10-game winner on the 1959 World Champion Dodgers, McDevitt was obtained from the Yankees in a mid-1961 trade for Billy Gardner. Although plagued by streaks of wildness, Danny did post a 1-0 record and a 2.36 earned run average in his one start and 15 relief appearances for Minnesota.

MINCHER, Donald Ray First Baseman

Born in Huntsville, Ala., on June 21, 1938. Height: 6 ft. 3 in. Weight: 205 lbs. Bats lefthanded and throws righthanded. Married.

Mincher came to the Twins' training camp in '62 stamped "ready" to take over as the regular first baseman. After an early trial with the Twins in '61, Don was optioned to Buffalo for more seasoning. There' his fielding perked up and, despite the late start, he finished fifth in the home-run hitting derby. Mincher got especially hot in postseason play. He paced Buffalo to the International League playoff championship by hitting .343 with four homers and eight runs batted in. His momentum then carried the Bisons to the Little World Series title as he batted .500 against Louisville and hit two more homers. Twice during the regular Bisons season, he socked three homers in one game. Don, then a Class A player, was obtained by the old Senators along with Earl Battey and cash in a pre-1960 swap which sent Roy Sievers to the White Sox.

MOORE, Raymond LeRoy "Farmer Ray" Pitcher

Born June 1, 1926, at Meadows, Md. Height: 6 ft. 1 in. Weight: 205 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Single.

For the past two seasons, this prematurely gray-haired tobacco farmer has been this club's best late-inning relief pitcher. Except for a spell of bursitis which hit Moore in early summer, the Twins might have finished higher in the standings, according to many observers. But he rallied back, and during the second half of the season, he allowed only seven earned runs, posting a 1.99 earned run average over his final 23 games.

NARAGON, Harold Richard "Hal" Catcher

With two hits, one a bunt, on the last day of the season, ex-Marine Naragon pushed his average over the .300 mark for the first time in the majors since 1955. It capped a fine season for the hustling off-season advertising specialties salesman. Naragon has been the club's No. 2 catcher since coming over from Cleveland in a 1959 trade which sent Ed Fitz Gerald, now a Twins coach, to the Indians.

NOSSEK, Joseph Raymond "Joe" Outfielder

Born November 8, 1940, at Cleveland, Ohio. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 178 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Lives at Euclid, Ohio.

Signed out of Ohio University in June, 1961, for one of the largest bonuses ever tendered by the Twins, Joe jumped right into Class A ball and enjoyed a creditable first season. He's a protege of Twins Coach Floyd Baker, and considered to be another year or two away from permanent big league status.

OLIVA, Antonio "Tony" Outfielder

Born July 20, 1938, at Pinar del Rio, Cuba. Height: 6 ft. 1 in. Weight: 175 lbs. Bats lefthanded, throws righthanded.

Nearly released when he failed to impress in spring training of 1961, Tony caught fire at Wytheville, not merely leading the Appalachian League in batting, but all of professional baseball as well. This accomplishment will win for him a silver Louisville Slugger bat this summer. Tony, who speaks virtually no English but lets his bat do the talking for him, also led the Appalachian Rookie League in hits, total bases (159), runs batted in and sacrifice flies (five). In addition, he threw out more runners than any other outfielder in his league. Then, last winter, Tony led the Twins' St. Petersburg club in batting at .298 and had more hits (51) than any other player in the Florida Instructional League. He has a good stroke and hits long liners to all sectors. He's close to being a big league hitter, in the opinion of some experts, but needs some polishing defensively. Tony is a discovery of Scout Joe Cambria.

PASCUAL, Camilo Alberto "Little Potato" Pitcher

Born in Havana, Cuba, on January 20, 1934. Throws and bats righthanded. Height: 5 ft. 11 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Married.

Considered to be just about the best pitcher in the American League when he's healthy, Camilo felt well enough last season to tie Baltimore's Steve Barber for the major league shutout championship with eight, and to become this club's first strikeout king since Walter Johnson in 1924. Pascual's 221 strikeouts were most by a pitcher on Washington-Minnesota since Hall of Famer Johnson's 228 back in 1916. Three times in 1961, Pascual pitched back - to - back shutouts. His whitewash victims were New York twice (four and six hits), Chicago twice (four and two hits), Cleveland (eight hits), Kansas City (five hits), Los Angeles (five hits) and Washington (two hits). In six other starts, he yielded two or fewer earned runs. His below-.500 percentage could easily have been turned heavily in his favor with a bit of luck. He was on the losing side in six one-run games.

Pascual's eminence as one of the game's premier pitchers is pointed up by the fact that he ranked second in the league in complete games (15) and was fourth in innings pitched, and victories by a righthander. The major league shutout king in 1959 with six, Pascual has pitched 21 shutouts since he came to the American League in 1954. He is topped in his league by only Early Wynn with 46 shutouts since 1939 and Whitey Ford with 31 since 1950. Pascual's team contributions are manifold. In 1959, he was the league's best hitting pitcher at .302. And from Sept. 19, 1958, until Sept. 3, 1961, he handled 150 straight fielding chances over an 88-game span in errorless fashion.

Last season was Camilo's healthiest; for the first time, he didn't miss a full starting turn. On July 19, he reached a peak by fanning 15 and tying his club record for a nine-inning game. All-Star Game viewers in Boston last summer had a chance to see his crackling curve, the best in baseball. He pitched three hitless, shutout innings in a 1-1 tie.

PLEIS, William III

Pitcher

Born August 5, 1938, in St. Louis, Missouri. Bats and throws left-handed. Height: 5 ft. 10 in. Weight: 175 lbs. Married.

Signed as a free agent by Twins Scout Bill Messman in 1960, Bill was the club's best relief pitcher from the middle of August, 1961, on. He was unscored on in his final 11 games, covering 20 innings. Bill, a "stuff" pitcher, led Kirkwood High, near St. Louis, to two state championships and in a 1955 playoff game, he fanned 35 batters as the two teams battled to a 14-inning scoreless tie. Bill won the nickname of "The Iceman" because of his coolness under pressure.

RAMOS, Pedro

"Pete"

The hard-luck pitcher of the Twins, Pete last season led the American League in defeats for the third straight season. But his 11-20 record of 1961 could have been reversed with some good fortune. Six of his defeats were by one run. In three other games, the Twins scored no runs for him, and in two other games, they got him only one run. A willing worker, the fastballing Caballero was fourth in the league in innings pitched and he won three shutouts, including a season-opening three-hitter over Whitey Ford and the Yankees. To improve his curve ball, Ramos pitched in the Florida

Instructional League last winter and had the best record in the league, four victories, one defeat and an 0.87 earned run average. He walked only three batters in 52 innings. The colorful Cuban, who likes to wear cowboy suits, has always been effective against Boston and holds a lifetime 22-14 advantage over the Red Sox.

Born December 14, 1942, at Franklin, N. C. Height: 6 ft. 3 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Throws lefthanded, bats righthanded. Married. Lives in Raleigh, North Carolina.

Described by Scout Al Evans as "the best prospect in the Carolinas," Jim was signed to a big bonus contract by Executive Vice President Joe Haynes in June, 1961. Haynes watched Jim fan 17 on what was said to be "a bad day for Roland." Earlier, in a semi-pro no-hitter, Roland struck out 25 batters. Roland was signed out of Needham Broughton High in Raleigh where in three seasons he won 27 and lost six. As a senior, he was 10-2 with a 1.50 earned run average, and 157 strikeouts in 74 innings. Plunged from high school into Class B pro ball, Jim performed remarkably, completing seven of his 17 starts and being credited with the victory in the All-Star Game. Soon after reporting to St. Petersburg for action in the Florida Instructional League, Jim broke an ankle, an injury reportedly healed since then.

Signed by Twins Coach Floyd Baker, then a scout for the old Senators, soon after graduation from Kent University in Ohio, Rich last season won promotion to the majors and showed promise as a hitter while seeing part-time service. His biggest hit was a bases-loaded triple off Ryne Duren of the Angels on July 6. Rich is a second cousin of the late Yankees pitcher, Steve Sundra. STANGE, Albert Lee

Pitcher

Born October 27, 1936, in Chicago, Illinois. Bats and throws right-handed. Height: 5 ft. 10 in. Weight: 170 lbs. Lives in Broadview, Ill.

After leading the Carolina League in 1960 in victories, shutouts (3), complete games (20), finishing second in strikeouts by one, and landing an All-Star berth, this Drake University product made the jump from Class B all the way to the majors in less than a season. He blanked the opposition in five of his seven relief appearances and got his first American League victory in a two-inning, two-hit, shutout relief job against Cleveland. Stange was signed for the Washington-Minnesota club by Scout Otto Bluege.

Pitcher

Born March 12, 1937, at Welch, Oklahoma. Height: 5 ft. 11 in. Weight: 196 lbs. Throws righthanded and bats lefthanded.

Signed originally as a pitcher by the Baltimore Orioles for a large bonus, Bruce drifted into the Yankees organization and tried his hand at playing outfield and first base for a while. But he returned to the mound and last season blossomed as one of the most reliable relievers in the Southern Association.

Born at Elmwood, Illinois, on July 4, 1929. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 190 lbs. Throws and bats righthanded. Married.

Long regarded as one of the best defensive centerfielders in the game, Bill demonstrated his versatility by taking over at third base after being acquired by the Twins from Kansas City in a swap for Reno Bertoia. Toward the end of the season, he regained his batting eye and served notice he intends to be a regular at one of the two positions in which he now excels. He's one of the few major leaguers who wears No. 13.

VALDESPINO, Hilario Outfielder

Born January 11, 1939 in San Jose de las Lajas, Havana, Cuba. Bats and throws lefthanded. Height: 5 ft. 8 in. Weight: 170 lbs.

Once described by Havana's respected Bob Maduro as the best ballplayer to come out of Cuba in 20 years, Sandy might be ready to make the grade in the majors. Shaking off an early-season slump at Syracuse last summer, he regained his touch in a late-campaign surge which led Indianapolis to the American Association flag. Sandy hits with occasional power, runs well, is a good flychaser and, with his squatty build and quick starts and stops, is a popular figure with the fans.

VERSALLES, Zoilo "Zorro" Shortstop

Born in Havana, Cuba, December 18, 1940. Height: 5 ft. 10 in. Weight: 150 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married.

After only three full seasons in the minors which saw him jump from Class D to B to AAA and win All-Star nomination in all, Zoilo completed his climb last season with a fine first full major league season. He led American League shortstops in batting and in driving in runs. And his 16 stolen bases pointed up his great speed. He had stolen 19, 18 and 24 bases in his three minor league seasons. Zoilo was blessed with great natural ability. Experts are generally agreed he could become one of the very best shortstops of the present generation if he applies himself. His two biggest days of 1961 came April 16 when he had four hits, including a game-winning 11th-inning homer against Baltimore, and May 27 when he had five-for-five, including two doubles, against Washington.

Born in Matanzas, Cuba, on May 22, 1931. Height: 6 ft. 1 in. Weight: 175 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married.

A fancy fielder with good speed, Valdy has been giving the club extra protection in the infield, particularly at shortstop, since 1955. No power boy with the bat, Jose has contributed his share of key hits, as he did last June 15 with a ninth-inning, game-winning single which beat Kansas City, 4-3. His dad was once a football player at Boston University.

ZIMMERMAN, Gerald Robert "Gerry" Catcher

Born in Omaha, Nebraska, September 21, 1934. Height: 6 ft. 2 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married. Lives in Milwaukie, Oregon.

Signed for a reported $77,000 bonus by Red Sox Scout Ted McGrew in 1952, Gerry came to the Twins in a January trade with Cincinnati for outfielder Dan Dobbek. Gerry is no stranger to Twin Cities fans, having caught for the old Minneapolis Millers of the American Association. In 1958, he was the sparkplug as the Millers capped their season with an 11-game winning streak that swept them through the playoffs and the Little World Series. Last season for Cincinnati, his standout receiving early in the season was instrumental in the Redlegs' strong start and eventual National League championship.

He ranked eighth in the International League in earned run average last year while pitching seven complete games, three of them shutouts. In 1960, he pitched a no-hitter, facing only 27 batters. He walked a Greensboro batter, then picked him off. Against Buffalo in '61, he had a no-hitter for 8½ innings before weakening and settling for a three-hit, 3-1 victory.

Pitcher

Born February 24, 1938, at St. Paul, Minn. Height: 5 ft. 11 in. Weight: 170 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married.

A graduate of St. Paul's Washington High School and the University of Minnesota, Jim has the requisites of a fine relief pitcher, including a calm demeanor, a good sinker ball and excellent control. His bullpen work led Wilson to the Carolina League championship last season. He worked in more games than any other pitcher. He's used to pitching for champions. He won the game which gave the University of Minnesota the 1960 N.C.A.A. title, then joined Wytheville in time to help win the Appalachian League flag. He had a 2-1 record and 2.05 ERA in his 17 Florida Instructional League appearances last winter.
