Fan favorite 'Twins Pass' presented by Thrivent now available for the 2024 season

2024 'Twins Pass' available now through April 3 at a monthly rate of $59; Fans can save an additional $30 with a new, one-time $324 payment option

March 14th, 2024

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL, MN – The Minnesota Twins today announced the return of the “Twins Pass” presented by Thrivent, a flexible, affordable ticket package that allows fans to watch the defending American League Central Division champions at Target Field all season long. The 2024 Twins Pass is available for purchase now through April 3 in two formats: The traditional monthly package at $59 per month; or a new, one-time, up-front payment of $324 that delivers fans an additional $30 in savings.

The Twins Pass presented by Thrivent, which includes 80 regular season home games (all except the April 4 Home Opener), can be purchased now at twins.com/twinspace or by calling 1-800-33-TWINS (limit 5 per customer). The monthly fee increases to $69 for those who purchase a Twins Pass between April 4 and May 2, with their plan covering May through September only; beginning May 3, Twins Pass is $79 and covers June through September.

Twins Pass ticket holders can watch a game from any of Target Field’s wide variety of outdoor and indoor social spaces, located from foul pole to foul pole and on all levels of the ballpark (Club level access not included). Fans also have the option to upgrade on a game-by-game basis into select seat locations, should they choose.

The third annual Spring Breakout is coming up fast, and the Twins figure to field an intriguing roster this year. With four prospects in MLB Pipeline's Top 100, plus a compelling arsenal of young arms, the home game against Phillies prospects on March 19 figures to be worth watching. Here's a look at what you need to know about this year's Twins Spring Breakout game.

What is Spring Breakout?

In 2026, MLB Spring Breakout will again be a four-day event showcasing baseball's future -- the current stars of Minor League Baseball -- in 16 exhibition games played between teams composed of each MLB organization's top prospects. The third edition will be held from March 19-22 at Grapefruit and Cactus League stadiums during Spring Training.

Notable position players

NOTABLE POSITION PLAYERS

Unfortunately, Walker Jenkins, MLB's No. 14 prospect, suffered a left hamstring injury recently and his status for the event is in doubt. But that still leaves plenty of noteworthy players in the pool for Minnesota, including shortstop Kaelen Culpepper (No. 52 overall), catcher Eduardo Tait (No. 65) and outfielder Emmanuel Rodriguez (No. 74). Rodriguez has already been turning heads with an early-spring power outburst.

Notable pitchers

It's harder to project who might pitch, since a pitcher has to be on turn in order to be able to go in the game. But among the candidates are lefty Connor Prielipp (Twins' No. 5 prospect), lefty Dasan Hill (No. 6), lefty Kendry Rojas (No. 10), righty Andrew Morris (No. 13) and recent draftees right-handers Riley Quick (No. 11) and James Ellwanger (No. 16).

Roster details

Spring Breakout rosters are being constructed in two phases in 2026. Clubs initially submit a preliminary 40-man player pool on Thursday, March 5, which will then be pared down to the official 23-27 man rosters on March 18. The preliminary rosters were assembled using MLB Pipeline's Top 30 Prospects lists plus additional prospects submitted by the club.
